

Higher Education

Hawkins' college and university financing practice is unmatched by any other law firm. The number and variety of colleges and universities with which we have worked, and our continuing involvement in the development of new financing tools for these educational institutions, contribute to Hawkins' current leadership in higher educational facility finance. As a result, the firm's attorneys are uniquely capable of providing the highest levels of service to our higher education clients.

The firm advises universities and colleges in an array of financings including fixed rate and variable rate demand issues, tax-exempt and taxable commercial paper programs, master lease transactions, facility financings (including academic buildings, dormitories, clinical and research facilities and athletic facilities), certificates of participation, collateralized issues, secured financings and unsecured financings. Further, our attorneys participate in pooled financings for various private colleges and universities as counsel to the liquidity bank and as counsel to the underwriters.
